Narrative:

Party reports that her daughters's exboyfriend came to her residence on 7/25 and tried to take a lawnmower that he had given to her several years ago. She was able to talk him out of taking it, and gave him the money that he had supposedly sold the lawnmower for so she could keep the item but is concerned that he may try to do so again. He was citing payments for child support as a reason for wanting the item back to sell. RP is concerned he may try to take the item again, and will be traveling the first week of August. She requested that he be asked not to return to her property and was advised of what steps to take to trespass the party from her property.

Narrative:

RP was advised that the lawn mower issue is a civil matter, and advised of her option to file a residential check form while she is out of town.
